

Our Mission

Our mission is simply to provide our clients with the resources they need to maximize their profit potential. We don't just fix the issues; we help individuals understand what their true needs are. Enabling our clients to understand their true needs makes it possible for their businesses to thrive, therefore, they can pay more attention to the other aspects of their business and leave the technology to us, the experts.

What is CRM?

“CRM, or Customer Relationship Management, is a company-wide business strategy designed to reduce costs and increase profitability by solidifying customer loyalty...It's a strategy used to learn more about customers' needs and behaviors in order to develop stronger relationships with them. After all, good customer relationships are at the heart of business success. ”

Why CRM in a box?

CRM in a box is your tool to better serve your customers. It's the complete package, including the software, server hardware, training and installation you need to begin building better relationships with the most important part of your business, your clients.

Anmar Information Systems can build a system that is customized directly to the needs of your unique business. CRM in a box can provide you with the tools you need to become a more organized company, this can save you both time and money.

Our CRM in a box system allows you to:

- Keep a detailed record of all of your clients and the work you've done for them.

- Keep a record of potential leads and opportunities for future sales.
- Keep your general company documents organized and available for all your associates to use.
- Easy plug and play system that is extremely user friendly along with training so that your associates feel confident with their new CRM in a box system.
- One of the best features of our CRM solution is that it is safer than hosted CRM solutions offered by other companies. This is because the hardware and software are installed at your site so your precious data never crosses over the Internet.
- CRM can be used simultaneously by hundreds of users at your company and does not require a per user or per seat licenses which can be extremely costly.
